Hagen

The merger of two law firms, both with long professional traditions, resulted in this new corporate interior.

Two floors house all activities ranging from secretaries' desks to client advisory rooms. A red, glossy reception area greets everyday clients. Gracing the wall in large letters, the values from the lawyer code are legibly presented to the entering clientele. Grey and white colours effectively accentuate the red office walls.

A second reception area is used for special events, acting like a theater foyer set among offices. The style of interior design is consistently applied to all spaces, accentuating the team feeling for the employees, and completing the sense of the office being a modern, dynamic lawyers' enterprise.
